Thank you for your email. I really appreciate the time you have taken to contact me.

As my team is small and we receive a large volume of emails and phone calls, please note the following:

For matters relating to the Electorate:

- 1) If you are a constituent in the electorate and your correspondence is a stand-alone email or letter relating to assistance you are seeking, or a specific community issue, we will endeavour to provide you with a response as soon as possible to outline how we can assist you.
- 2) If you have not provided your full name, residential address, and telephone number in your original email, please re-send your email with this information. It assists us in responding to your enquiry as constituents will always receive priority.

If you live outside of the electorate, please contact your local federal MP.

While my team and I personally read and value all constituent correspondence, if you have sent correspondence as part of an automatically generated 'e-campaign', your views are noted but you are unlikely to receive a personal response on account of our limited resources and the large volume of automated correspondence we often receive.

Kind regards

s.22
